COLD, FLOODS, FIRES SPREAD DEATH, DAMAGE

200 Believed Dead In Europe; 33 In America

By the Associated Press.

High winds, cold, snow, sleet, rain, fog, dust storms, floods and fires spread death and damage through the northern hemisphere yesterday (Thursday).

Officials feared fatalities in the blizzards, gales and frigidity that beset Europe and the Near East may exceed 200. America counted 33 dead. Twenty-eight perished in fires in Lakewood, N. J., Jackson, Minn., New York, Montreal, Charleston, Ill., and Crestview Lodge, Calif. Treacherous highways cost two lives in Indiana, Illinois and South Dakota recorded one exposure death each. A landslide killed a workman on Mt. Lowe, Calif.

Snow and rain fell over 80 per cent of the United States. Western Wyoming experienced the worst blizzard of the winter. Snow piled toward a near record depth in Montana. Transportation was threatened anew by the heavy fall in many parts of the midwest.

Some counties were isolated again in Wisconsin. Eleven towns were still cut off in South Dakota. Red Cross aid was requested. Scores of Michigan communities were in danger of being snowbound once more as tracks and roads drifted shut.

More snow and colder was the forecast for the midcontinent as the far northwest bore the brunt of winter's latest assault. An unofficial reading of -50 was reported at Chester, Mont. Official minimums of -35 at Shelby, Mont., -21 at Moscow, Idaho, and -8 at Spokane, Wash., were recorded.

Heavy stock losses were anticipated. A dust storm darkened the Texas Panhandle. Flying was curtailed in the midwest. A few rail lines and many roads were clogged. Floods cut off the highway leading to the Malibu Beach colony in California.

The United Mine Workers authorized members to work an extra day this week to east a coal shortage. Des Moines and Cedar Rapids, Ia., set up local administrations to ration fuel.

Northern Illinois Highways Blocked When Snow Drifts

Division Of Highways Reports Other Roads Covered With Ice

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 13.—(P)—A heavy snow drifted by a strong wind blocked many roads in northern Illinois today, the state division of highways announced.

Handicapping six weeks effort of maintenance crews to keep roads open, the storm closed U. S. Route 34, east of Princeton, and U. S. Routes 51 and 52, north of Mendota.

The division of highways announced that many roads near Elgin were blocked again and that some highways in the Cook county area were drifting shut.

In sections of the state where snow did not fall, roads as far south as East St. Louis, Mt. Vernon and Fairfield were covered with more than half an inch of ice.

In the northern part of the state plows have piled snow 15 and 20 feet high along the roadsides.

Highway officials said they were concentrating their efforts to keep open main traveled roads and those used for transporting provisions. They included U. S. 41 to Waukegan and U. S. 42 to the Wisconsin line, U. S. 12, 14 and 20; State Route 64 from Chicago to Sycamore, Route 43 to DeKalb and U. S. 30 west of DeKalb.

Blizzards Kill 200 Persons In Europe, Balkans

Reports Of Near Famine In Many Provinces Investigated

London, Feb. 13.—(P)—Deaths from blizzards, gales and cold may exceed 200 in Europe and the near east, it was feared tonight after milder conditions enabled a partial restoration of transportation and communications systems.

The Balkans were hard hit. Reports to the Bulgarian ministry of the interior said at least 60 persons lost their lives in a bitter blizzard, many of them travelers caught between villages.

King Boris, who is visiting in Germany, telephoned orders that relief work be speeded.

In Hungary temperatures were below zero, adding to the suffering. A government committee is investigating reports of near famine in many provinces. Many districts of southern Yugoslavia were without communications.

Scores of fishing boats were recovered from the shores of the Adriatic, Ionian, Black and Tyrrhenian seas as the storms abated somewhat.

Italian authorities were checking up on a loss of life which they anticipated might reach 40. The fishing boat Olgettina was found adrift by a gunboat with five bodies aboard.

A patchy fog, followed by cold, in the British Isles resulted in groundings and collisions of small vessels. One man died of the cold.

Many persons were missing in Thrace, where snowdrifts were reported nine feet deep in some places.

In Norway, elk were driven by hunger to the settlements. Heavy snows in the woods prevented them from getting food. Three of them were run down by trains near Oslo and one on Monday delayed a train bearing King Haakon, returning from London following the funeral of King George.

Claude A. Swanson Shows Improvement

Washington, Feb. 13.—(P)—Claude A. Swanson, 74 year old secretary of the navy, rallied slightly tonight from a "serious but not hopeless" illness that followed a recent fall.

A bulletin at the naval hospital said Swanson, who developed pleurisy under a broken left rib, was "improved and resting easier than he was this morning."

At mid-afternoon physicians gave his temperature as 96, his pulse as 74 and his respiration as 26, adding this was "a pretty good report for a man of his age who is suffering such an illness."

The navy secretary has been in the hospital since February 5, being taken there after he had slipped and fallen on the bathroom floor of his home. Pleurisy developed under the broken bone yesterday.

Hospital authorities said the development of the pleurisy complication was "not unusual" with such an injury, but the delay of more than a week was "unusual."

REJECT AMENDMENT

Washington, Feb. 13.—(P)—The house today rejected an amendment to the war department bill to increase the $59,397,714 for aircraft construction to $72,397,714.

The amendment offered by Representative Rogers (D-N.H.) proposed the $13,000,000 increase for 700 planes instead of the 565 planes provided in the bill.

The standing vote defeated the amendment was 63 to 26.

DIES OF BURNS

It was announced that 500 miners will be employed at the colliery.

B. HAUPTMANN CONFERS WITH NEW ATTORNEY

Condemned In Tears As Conference Is Ended

By S. G. Blackman
Associated Press Staff Writer

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 13.—(P)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann and Samuel S. Leibowitz, New York criminal lawyer who said he would try to aid him if he would tell the truth, met today and with their hour interview ended with Hauptmann in tears.

Leibowitz, who with Hauptmann's wife, Anna, visited the prisoner in the state prison death house, said the interview was "very satisfactory."

Hauptmann broke down and cried like a child, he said. "I'm coming to see him again Sunday."

He would say no more. Asked if Hauptmann had confessed the kidnap-killing of the Lindbergh baby or changed his story in any detail, Leibowitz replied, "no comment."

However, Mrs. Hauptmann, who was smiling as she left the prison and stood near Leibowitz when he made his statement, said later "of course" Hauptmann had not confessed. She said her husband had "cried a little" but attributed it to emotion.

After leaving the prison, Leibowitz, Mrs. Hauptmann and Lieutenant Robert W. Hicks, Washington criminologist engaged in behalf of the defense, went to a local hotel where they conferred for a half hour.

Mr. Horner also filed unsigned with the secretary of state, permitting it to become a law, another bill empowering the Cook County Bureau of Public Welfare to administer old age pension.

His veto of a similar bill for down-state counties was decisively overridden by both houses last week.

The governor pointed out that the legislature must pass further bills to create a substitute for the IERC. The plan on which consideration is to be resumed next week would authorize the state auditor to distribute sales tax funds to the local governments on the basis of need.

"I must assume and have assumed," Mr. Horner stated, "that it is the definite intention of the general assembly x x x to adopt additional legislation as will enable us through local government" with state aid to continue to feed and clothe the jobless after May 1."

Before leaving New York for Trenton, Leibowitz announced Mrs. Evelyn Walsh McLean, prominent Washington society woman, interested him in the case.

The lawyer came to the prison today after Hauptmann made a personal request of Col. Mark O. Kimberlin, principal keeper, that he be permitted to talk to him.

Hauptmann's 30-day reprieve from death expires Saturday.

Ten Japanese Troops Killed In Big Battle

Soviet Despatches Report Border Battle Resulted In Casualties

Moscow, Feb. 13.—(P)—Soviet despatches from Ulan Bator (Urga), outer Mongolia, said today that ten Japanese-Manchoukuoan troops were killed in Wednesday's border clash with outer Mongolian forces.

The Japanese and Manchoukuoan troops, the report said, invaded outer Mongolian territory, but were ejected after two fights near the Mongolian post of Mulin Dersu, the scene of several recent skirmishes.

The Mongolians admitted, it was stated, that one of their soldiers was killed and seven were wounded. They said 20 Japanese-Manchoukuoan troops were wounded.

The invaders, the Ulan Bator despatches reported, numbered over 500 and were accompanied by one airplane, several tanks and six army trucks.

The news came on the heels of repeated charges in the Soviet press that the Japanese were planning to occupy outer Mongolia and were preparing for war with the Soviet union.

The Soviet account stated that the Mongolian frontier troops, outnumbered five to one, were defeated in the first clash about four and a half miles inside Mongolian territory and were obliged to retreat.

Reinforcements were rushed to their aid, however, the despatches said, and the Japanese-Manchoukuoans were turned back in a second engagement about seven and a half miles from the border.

Company officials said they believed most of the machinery in the plant would be usable again.

Horner Withholds Signature From Relief Measure

Permits Lyons Bill Passed Unanimously Last Session To Become Law

Chicago, Feb. 13.—(P)—With holding his signature, Gov. Horner took the final step today to take from the hands of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission the distribution of relief funds on May 1.

The Lyons bill, passed unanimously by the second special session, was permitted to become a law without the governor's signature.

It ends on May 1 the active career of the much-criticized relief commission, which has distributed more than $300,000,000 in four years, although the commission itself is not abolished.

Mr. Horner also filed unsigned with the secretary of state, permitting it to become a law, another bill empowering the Cook County Bureau of Public Welfare to administer old age pension.

Search was made also for William Blake, a foreman, who was missing and believed to have been buried under the tons of debris in the wrecked one-story building.

Outspoken opposition came, however, from Representative Snell of New York, the House minority leader with Speaker Burns, two democratic senators and others from the majority ranks offering either ridicule or counter-attack.

The discussion made up part of a political day which saw Senator Dickinson of Iowa declare himself a can-

Half Dozen Others Are Reported Seriously Injured

Chicago, Feb. 13.—(P)—A stock yards blast which razed the hydrogen plant of Swift and company caused the death of two workmen and serious injuries to at least a half dozen others.

Salvage workers recovered the body of a man identified by the coroner's office as Daniel McLean. 27, a machinist, Walter Erickson, 38, a laborer, died from his injuries in the Western Memorial Hospital.

The Case of Corn

Some interesting figures on Argenti-ne corn were recently brought to our attention. We quote in part:

"Argentina is expected to have a new all time record corn production as result of a much larger acreage and excellent weather conditions. Broom-hall's Argentine agent says the trade there is looking for a government estimated of around 19,500,000 acres compared with last season of 17,884,000 acres. Last year's crop was officially estimated at 451,000,000 bushels of which 350,000,000 were available for export. During 1935 the United States imported 45,000,000 bushels of corn most of which came from Argentina." Along in April Argentina starts to offer and ship their new corn.

The Corn Industries Research Foundation has this to say in a current news dispatch. "Heavy imports of duty free foreign starches are holding back the demand for corn starches." This means that products which should be made from corn raised by the American farmer are being imported.

Corn has long been king of the great midwest belt, but if something is not done to check the inroads of foreign imports, it will ere long be reduced to the position of cotton in the south, for which the foreign market has been lost. The forms of this nation should be exporting corn, and not a bushel should be imported.

The head of a national farm business group recently told members at the annual meeting that Secretary Hull, with his reciprocal treaties, is robbing the farmer of his market. While Secretary Wallace is endeavoring to cut production so that the price of corn will be regulated by an import tariff, rather than by supply and demand. He urged the farmers to write to these men and explain that they did not want their corn markets ruined.

Fighting Common Cold

Columbia University scientists have kept isolated for 20 months an invisible virus which is believed to be the cause of the common cold. At no time was this substance in contact with the human body; yet it lived and multiplied, being fed on chicken embryo.

This is taken as proof that the cause of colds is something distinct and apart from the physical organism that is its victim. During the long imprisonment of this virus it never lost its power to give human beings and chipmunks violent colds.

If a virus that will develop resistance to colds and thus prevent them has been found, the human race will reap a great benefit. Colds cost the American people literally billions of dollars a year in loss of time, efficiency and health. They so often develop into more serious diseases that their onset is feared, especially in winter.

They attack the body when resistance is down, and once they get a hold, their rule is tyrannical. They keep the victim exhausted, miserable and fighting to stay out of bed. Physicians recommend that cold victims go to bed and stay there, but such a procedure would almost cripple business at some seasons of the year. A first class cold preventive, once it is discovered, should be given the medical profession without strings, so that it may prove a real blessing to mankind.

Can This Be Done?

The Rock Island city council has passed an ordinance fixing 25 cents as the minimum fare to be charged for taxicabs on the streets. It is claimed that cabs cannot be safely operated on less. This appears to be a frank attempt at price-fixing by a municipality, and there may be some doubt as to whether it can be legally done.

The Rock Island aldermen might get around the constitution by regarding taxicab service as a public utility. Otherwise it is hard to see how the council would have any right to tell anyone what he should charge for his services.

There should be laws regulating safety on the streets, and if a cab operator could meet these requirements and still handle his fares for his services.

less than the minimum charge, it would hardly be proper for the council to interfere.

You have a good president and a bad Constitution. The bad Constitution gives the benefit of the good president.

Quite obviously, the principal interest of Vickers is in making warships and instruments of war, but to carry from that to the idea that Vickers is anxious to see them used in wars is going too far.

BARS

in barring congressmen or "politicians" from holding key positions in the local organizations.

All this adds to perplexity of congressional candidates. Picture a candidate with 100 Townsend Clubs shouting at him from one side, and 10 NUSJ clubs shouting at him from another, to say nothing of Technocrats, patriotic societies, organized ex-soldiers, farm groups, labor groups—all shouting at once and all shouting something different. In 1936 the life of a candidate will not be a happy one.

Technocracy Still Lives

Speaking of Technocracy, it's not as dead as you might think. From a national headquarters in New York, at least one organizer, A. L. Margolis, and Howard Scott, the founding father, is also due for a lecture tour this spring.

Here, too, the movement is based on local and state organizations, all seeking to bring about "The Technate" which is what we will have when the Technocrats are put in charge.

Republicans seemed a bit shy about announcing their candidacies. But then, judging from the latest budget figures, Democrats were shy, too.

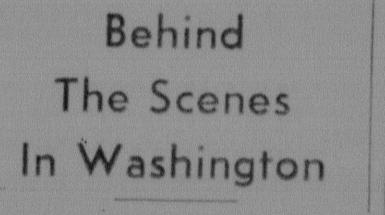

Army Gets Efficiency

Gen. Malin Craig has been U.S. army chief of staff for only about four months, but in that time 27 general officer appointments have been made. Maybe that's to get ready for the large-scale army maneuvers scheduled for the coming summer.

Six sets of "war games" are to be played, two of them involving large units, to get that experience in handling large bodies which the American army has always conspicuously lacked.

Last year's maneuvers in the east showed that there was room for improvement in this field. The winter air maneuvers just concluded in New England are only the first of a series.

Washington—Just when the Townsend groups had gotten fairly started on their district-by-district campaign to elect Townsenders to Congress, somebody decoyed them down the Third Party alley, at least long enough to create some atmosphere of uncertainty.

Representative McGroarty, of California, sponsor of Townsend legislation in the House, was one of the first and most vigorous objectors to the third party idea. He saw that, district by district, an organization like Townsend's can make great progress. The Anti-Saloon League proved that.

But McGroarty saw that a national ticket might well show the movement under so badly that it would never recover. With Dr. Townsend recuperating from a slight illness in a western hospital, this question seems to await a definite answer.

In the meantime, Father Coughlin's National Union for Social Justice is not making the same mistake of a third party flirtation. It is operating on the district-by-district plan, and is bringing into activity the local clubs that can "turn the heat" on congressional candidates.

Several large Ohio cities report 150 units of from 100 to 250 members each, already operating.

Orders from Royal Oak to state directors have led to tightening up and increasing the size of what had heretofore been rather loose local organizations.

Editor People's Forum:

Nothing since the famous Dred Scott decision of ante-bellum days has stirred the public mind so much concerning "state's rights" as the supreme court's recent AAA ruling.

And before we are done with our discussion of the subject we will find ourselves arguing it all over again with Uncle Sam when it comes to administering old age pensions under joint federal and state arrangements. With United States citizenship nowhere territorially restricted under federal law outside the District of Columbia, and the several states entering separately into agreement with the federal government for payment of old age pensions, it is conceivable that confusion will arise from the individual states arbitrarily setting up different and conflicting citizenship standards for payment of pensions. It is the new basis for determining citizenship which is destined to again force the state's rights issue.

For comprehension of this matter, let us understand that, under the present set up, payment of the federal portion awaits state action; and where uniformity is lacking as between states' citizenship enactments, hurtful payment gaps will inevitably occur through change of individual residence from state to state either from choice or of necessity. We may well concede state prerogative for dictating certain terms for payment of state portion of the pension obligation, but no state should be afforded power to temporarily block payment of the federal portion when time gaps occur, as they will and must from conflicting state laws, when need comes for change of residence as in the case of a widowed mother faced with necessity of going to another state to make her home with son or daughter—able to serve, but not to provide for her.

In order that there may be no suspension of pension payments, either state or federal, the federal government should exact payment by each state for so long a time as necessary under law for citizens of one state to establish citizenship in another state. In other words, the pensioners' "leave of absence" afforded by one state should be made to conform with other states' residential requirements. Without such compulsory conformity with federal law there will be no uniformity of states' law and worthy pensioners will oft be found suffering in a sort of no man's land.

BURGLARS TURN OUT TO BE WATCHMEN

Police Answer Call But Find Everything Alright

A pedestrian going by the Sweeney coal office shortly before midnight Wednesday saw two figures in the darkened office. By telephone he passed the tip to the police department, and four patrolmen responded to the "burglar call."

Taking no chances, the officers surrounded the place and invited the occupants of the office to come out. They readily acceded to the demand and proved their identity.

Burglars? No, just a couple of night watchmen from nearby coal yards.

Active Leader in Peace Movements Will Speak Here

Miss Alves Long of St. Louis to Address MacMurray Institute Here

Miss Alves Long of St. Louis who is to be one of the speakers at the MacMurray Institute on "Problems of the Pacific," to be held Feb. 24 and 25, is not only the international relations chairman of the General Federation of Women's clubs but has also been an active member of the American Association of University Women.

She first became interested in international relations during her sojourn abroad for a year and a half in 1922-1923. On her return she was appointed chairman of the international relations committee both of the College club of St. Louis and of the Eighth district of the Missouri Federation, and later in 1926 became state chairman both of the Missouri Federation and of the Missouri branch of the Association of University Women.

Miss Long has been an earnest student of international relations ever since having attended the first conference on the Cause and Cure of War, besides many successive ones. She was chosen to represent Missouri at the first National Marathon Round Table in Washington.

In 1928 she went abroad for five months, being a delegate to the biennial of the International Association of University Women at Amsterdam. She also spent a month in Geneva attending the Geneva Summer Institute of International Relations, besides several sessions of the council and assembly of the league, and was privileged to be present on the historic occasion when Germany entered the league. On her return she visited the principal cities of Missouri, describing her experiences, reiterating this one thing: "Germany will pursue one of two courses: either she will compel the other nations to disarm down to her level, or she herself will re-arm."

Education for Peace
Miss Long believes that the road to peace lies through education of the people to demand that their governments pursue policies which will not lead them into war.

She was the originator of the Missouri Book of Peace, securing over 38,000 signatures to the statement: We, the undersigned, say to the United States government: "We demand that profit be taken out of war-making. The book was dedicated to Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole and presented to her at the triennial at Detroit.

Miss Long is a native of North Carolina, but on her graduation from Peace Institute, Raleigh, her family removed to the middlewest where she has lived ever since. She attended the Universities of Minnesota and Chicago, receiving her bachelor's degree from the latter in 1898.

Miss Long has written five playlets on the subject of international relations, the titles of which are: "Marriage Without Reservations," "The Candidates' Hat Shop," "It's," "Fairy Tale of What Might Have Happened If Club Women Only Had."

BURGLARS TURN OUT TO BE WATCHMEN

Police Answer Call But Find Everything Alright

A pedestrian going by the Sweeney coal office shortly before midnight Wednesday saw two figures in the darkened office. By telephone he passed the tip to the police department, and four patrolmen responded to the "burglar call."

Taking no chances, the officers surrounded the place and invited the occupants of the office to come out. They readily acceded to the demand and proved their identity.

Burglars? No, just a couple of night watchmen from nearby coal yards.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief Of Pain

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are one of Nature's chief organs working the acids and waste out of the blood. If they don't pass 3 prints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing.

If you have trouble with frequent bladder infections with scanty amount which often smart and burn, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may be getting out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

Don't wait for serious trouble. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS—which have been used effectively for over 40 years by millions of people. They give happy relief and will help flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get DOAN'S PILLS.

Tell Sorority Qualifications Secretaries

Alumnae chapters of the city dedicated the new room and meeting place in the Ayers block on Main Street. There were members of the organization.

Walter had charge of the evening. R. E. of Commerce secretaries of such to the membership discussed the qualifications of a secretary.

and Welch presented had made of some clovers to determine Walter in a secretary. their findings in which were presenters of the sorority.

Harance; 2, loyalty to employer; 3, personality; 4, ability to keep the business of the firm to yourself; 5, ability to adapt yourself to the type of business in which you are engaged.

D. L. Hardin gave a brief talk in which he reviewed the history and growth of the sorority, which originated in Brown's Business College. The original chapter was organized with seven members. There are now two local chapters and fifty members of the sorority here.

A business session was held, followed by a social hour. It was decided to hold a similar joint meeting of the chapters on April 8, to be known as employers' and guest night. Preparations for the state conclave, to be held here in May, were also discussed.

The new quarters have been attractively furnished and are to serve as a meeting place for both chapters and as a rendezvous during the conclave, as well as for social gatherings of the sorority.

WON'T WORK SIX DAYS

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 13.—(P)—Representatives of 14 Progressive miners local unions voted tonight to adhere strictly to their contract and not work six days a week to alleviate the coal shortage.

The action was taken despite a letter sent to all locals by State President William Keck and S. L. Jones, secretary-treasurer, urging miners to work the extra day "to relieve the coal famine and misery and suffering that goes with it."

Montana Cities Hit By Earthquakes

Helena, Mont., Feb. 13.—(P)—Earthquakes struck terror in several Montana cities tonight as an added hardship to the state's longest cold wave and heaviest snowfall in years.

A series of short, sharp quakes shocked Helena late today.

Butte, Missoula and Livingston felt light tremors. It is nearly 350 miles from Livingston to Missoula.

No damage was reported.

Pedestrians jumped from the sidewalks in Helena as large quantities of loosened snow toppled from copings of buildings.

The shocks occurred between 5:30 and 6:00 p. m. (mountain standard time).

CLIPPER TAKES OFF

Alameda, Calif., Feb. 13.—(P)—The China Clipper seaplane took off for Honolulu late today in resumption of air mail and express service on the 8,000-mile route to Manila.

The four-motored flying boat lifted from San Francisco Bay at 7:25 p. m. eastern standard time.

Captain Edwin Musick was at the controls. TransPacific service was interrupted during the holiday season while the China and Philippine Clippers underwent reconditioning.

LIFE AS BANK CLERK'S WIFE IS "TOO DULL"

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 13.—(P)—Pretty Anne Gould Meador, granddaughter of Jay Gould, the railroad builder, found life here as a bank clerk's wife too dull after the gay social swirl of New York. Frank Meadow said today in obtaining a divorce.

Meador, an investment clerk in the Gross National Bank, brought charges of desertion and harsh treatment against the young heiress with whom he eloped to Harrison, N. Y., on Christmas night, 1934, after a whirlwind courtship.

He alleged his young bride left their modest San Antonio home within a few months when called east by the death of her father—and did not return.

"She's a fine girl and we're still friends," he commented. "She was used to a great deal more than a bank clerk could afford in the way of social rounds. I don't much blame her for not coming back."

CAN'T USE BOBSLED

Oakwood, Wis., Feb. 13.—(P)—A farmer living near this village bought a bobsled 12 years ago. He never had a chance to use it because little snow fell. Last fall he put it in the hayloft. Now he can't get the sled out because the barn is snow-bound.

Pension Office to Be Constructed in Court House Room

Partition Will Be Built to Provide Quarters; Blanks Now Available

With distribution of Old Age Pension blanks under way here, Morgan county officials yesterday hastened to set up the machinery by which the pensions will be administered. County Judge William E. Thomson said he will announce the personnel of the pension board shortly. County commissioners made preparations for partitioning off a room to be used as pension headquarters.

Blanks are available at the office of County Clerk Fred Brockhouse, and a number of these were given out Thursday morning to prospective pensioners. The blanks must be filled out in duplicate and proof of the age of the applicant must accompany each application.

The applications will be received until after the pension board has been appointed, and headquarters opened at the court house.

The pension office is expected to be located at the southwest corner of the court house, first floor, with entrance at the large doors leading to the circuit court room. The commissioners deemed this location the most convenient to elderly persons who thus will not be compelled to climb a long stairway.

Plans were being made yesterday for converting a portion of the hallways into office space. All of the commissioners and Judge Thomson inspected the place yesterday morning.

Persons 65 years or more who do not have adequate income upon which to live are eligible for assistance. The questionnaire applicants must answer makes inquiry as to whether the person has interest in real estate, whether any assignment of property has been taken place within five years; if the applicant has insurance and numerous other questions to show if the applicant is in real need of assistance.

Making Proof of Age

Proof of age may be difficult for a number of applicants, and the rule of the Department of Welfare in this respect states:

"William M. Hodgson, 87, 1029 Twentieth street, Rock Island, a member of the firm of Hodgson and Hoban, morticians, died at 10 o'clock last night in St. Anthony's hospital following a stroke. He suffered the stroke Sunday, apparently as the result of over-exertion from shoveling snow along the road as he sought to help get the mortuary hearse through on a call to Rural township.

Mr. Hodgson, who was prominent in Rock Island fraternal and church circles, was stricken while he worked with two employees to shovel through the drifts on the Knoxville road southeast of Milan. He was removed to the hospital, but failed to rally.

"William Matthew Hodgson was born March 1, 1878, in Sinclair, Ill., and resided there as a child. He moved to Jacksonville, Ill., as a young man, and on April 24, 1917, married Miss Lella Berryman there.

"Mr. Hodgson came to Rock Island in 1907, and had since been a resident of this city. He was employed by the late Frank B. Knox at the Knox mortuary from 1907 to 1910, and then left the mortuary business to work until 1915 at the head office of the Modern Woodmen of America. In 1915, following the death of Frank B. Knox, he returned to the mortuary to work for Harry T. Knox, Mr. Knox's son, and remained there a year, then returned to the Modern Woodmen office. In 1918 he established his own mortuary.

"In 1921, Harry H. Hoban became associated with Mr. Hodgson, and the firm of Hodgson and Hoban was formed.

Was Steward of Church

"Mr. Hodgson was a member of the board of stewards of First Methodist church, and served as an usher. He was a member of Trio Lodge No. 57, Masons; Rock Island chapter, No. 18, Royal Arch Masons; Rock Island council, No. 20, Royal and Select Masters; commander No. 18, Knights Templar; Amoo Grotto, No. 57; a past patron of Rock Island chapter, No. 69, Order of Eastern Star; a past watchman of shepherds of Vashai Shrine, No. 23, White Shrine of Jerusalem; past chancellor commander of the Knights of Pythias of Milan, past consul of Camp No. 26, Modern Woodmen of America; and a charter member and past president of the Mississippi Valley Funeral Directors association. He was a member of the Illinois and National Undertakers association, and a member of the Rock Island playground and recreation commission.

Had Many Friendships

"Mr. Hodgson had enjoyed many friendships. Those who mourn his death liked him particularly for his geniality, and for his characteristic friendly way of "always being the same." In church and in the lodge he was highly regarded and was called upon to serve in many offices.

"Surviving are the widow; a daughter, Miss Martha Ann Hodgson, and a son, John Hodgson, both at home; his aged father, John Hodgson, who is critically ill at his home in Jacksonville, Ill.; and a sister, Miss Olive Hodgson of Jacksonville. His mother, a brother, Howard E. Hodgson, and a sister, Miss Mary Hannah Hodgson, preceded him in death.

"The body was removed to the Wheelan funeral home, and will be taken to the Hodgson and Hoban chapel, where it will lie in state from 6 to 10 o'clock tonight. It will be returned to the residence tomorrow morning. It will be taken to the First Methodist church at 11 o'clock Thursday morning, and funeral services will be held there at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, with the Rev. Ernest J. Campbell officiating. Rites will also be conducted at the church by the Rock Island chapter of Eastern Star, and Trio Lodge of Masons. The body will be taken to Jacksonville Friday for burial."

Remains Will Arrive in City Today: Funeral At 1 O'clock

The remains of W. M. Hodgson, Rock Island, Ill., funeral director, will arrive here early this morning via the Burlington railroad at Chapin. Funeral services will be held at one o'clock this afternoon in the Reynolds Chapel, and the remains will be placed in the Diamond Grove mausoleum.

Mr. Hodgson was a son of John Hodgson of West Douglas avenue, who has been seriously ill for several months.

Science Finds New "Emergency Brake" For Human Stomach

Drug Slows Down Digestive Machine To About Half Its Normal Speed

Chicago, Feb. 13.—(P)—Science found a new emergency brake for the human stomach today.

It was the drug ephedrine, widely used in treatment of asthma and hay fever.

The drug slows the digestive machine down to about half its normal speed, three West Virginia medical men reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

The new brake would be useful in cases of stomach disorders where as little digestive disturbance as possible is desired.

In cases of asthma and hay fever, however, the slowing up process would be of little or no use and the Journal announcement advised physicians to keep careful watch of the diets of patients to whom ephedrine was regularly administered.

Ephedrine had already been known to act as a brake on the digestive fluids, and the West Virginians, Dr. Edward J. Van Lier and Donald H. Longh and Clark K. Sleeth, all of Morgantown, tested its effect on the emptying time of the stomach.

Six healthy young male students were chosen for the experiments.

PASSENGER CAR USE OF HIGHWAYS DROPS AS TRUCKS INCREASE

Springfield, Ill.—(P)—Passenger car traffic decreased again in Illinois during 1935 while truck volume made another gain, the division of highways reported.

From 1931 to 1935, passenger car and truck traffic fell off 8 per cent, gas tax revenues gained by 10 per cent, and vehicle registrations dropped 5 per cent, it was reported.

Announcing the result of an annual survey in August, highway officials said there has been a large decrease in passenger vehicle movements in Chicago and vicinity.

Passenger car service in Cook county last August was 73 per cent of the 1931 total, while truck volume was 117 per cent. Downstate passenger car volume was 96 per cent and truck traffic 127 per cent, compared with 1931.

SECRETARY SWANSON ILL WITH PLEURISY

Washington, D.C.—Secretary Swanson, who suffered a fractured rib in a fall at his home a week ago, has developed pleurisy and a brother has been summoned to his bedside at Naval hospital.

Hospital officials said Mrs. Swanson this morning summoned H. C. Swanson, brother of the 74-year-old secretary of the navy, from his home at Danville, Va.

Swanson's condition was described as "serious but not immediately alarming."

GIRL WAVES TO HER PARENTS; THEN DIES

Superior, Ariz.—(P)—Seventeen-year-old Marjorie Stoll waved to her parents as she roared past them on a highway—she on a motorcycle and they in the family car.

"Let's catch up with her," said her mother. The Stolls pursued and soon overtook the motorcycle. They found it crumpled in a ditch. Marjorie was dead.

ISSUES WARNING

By Ruth Cowan,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

Chicago, Feb. 13.—(P)—President Glenn Frank of the University of Wisconsin tonight warned that if the majority of citizens of the United States do not think clearly and straight, "a minority that knows what it wants will rule the roost."

That is what happened in a number of other modern self-governing countries, he told several thousand women attending the third annual Non-Partisan Woman Congress sponsored by the Chicago Tribune.

Ruins of an Indian pueblo large enough to have accommodated 2,000 persons have been found near Rodeo, N.M.

Whirlwind Wedding for Max's Pal

Mary Kirk Brown, twice married socialite and once Max Baer's flame, contemplated nothing more than a dive into the pool when this picture was snapped at Miami Beach the other day. But she plunged into matrimony with a splash by breaking up a party in a swanky night club at 1:30 a.m., routing a judge out of bed and marrying William Seymour, New York and California jeweler, two days after she had met him and just one hour after her engagement.

1,000 FORM LINE TO APPLY FOR PENSIONS

County Pension Board Gets Work-out First Day

Rockford, Ill.—(P)—Nearly a thousand persons seeking to apply for the Illinois old-age pension stood in line today and slowly worked their way past the desk of Frank Peterson, pension superintendent for Winnebago county.

The county pension board was named only yesterday by Judge O. M. Williams. The members—L. H. Hoskison, Mrs. R. C. Bourland and V. D. Lobdell—named Peterson to the superintendant's post but have not yet made arrangements for clerical help.

Announcement was made yesterday that pension application blanks would be available today, and residents of the county above 65 years of age turned out to seek their $15 monthly.

HORNER TO LEAVE FOR VACATION IN FLORIDA

Springfield, Ill.—(P)—Planning to leave by train for a brief Florida vacation, Governor Horner today rushed to completion several matters of state business still on his desk.

Rain and fog caused the abandonment of the governor's proposed flight for his Florida trip, which was postponed so that he could participate in Lincoln day services.

TRAINMAN HURT

East St. Louis, Ill., Feb. 13.—(P)—Four trainmen were hurt, none believed seriously, when a Litchfield and Madison and an Illinois Central freight train collided at Stallings today.

A caboose and four cars of the Illinois Central train, which had stopped for water, were derailed and damaged when struck by the other freight train. Poor visibility was blamed for the accident.

Thomas Daley, brakeman, and Ray Long, fireman, both of the L & M crew, were two of the four hurt. The names of the others, members of the Illinois Central crew, were not immediately ascertained.

SAVING FARMS

Champaign, Ill., Feb. 13.—(P)—Activities of the resettlement administration, P. S. Richey, chief of debt adjustment, said today, have saved 1,035 midwest farms from foreclosure since Sept. 1, 1935.

The original debt on these farms, located in Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, Iowa and Missouri," Richey said, "totaled $3,398,682. Through efforts of county debt adjustment committees, the resettlement administration and other agencies, the debts were partially paid, extended or interest reduced. Land involved in these cases totaled 128,581 acres."

Richey reported 490 cases in Iowa, 186 in Illinois, 148 in Ohio, 143 in Missouri and 68 in Indiana.

FIRE AT CONVENT

Montreal, Feb. 13.—(P)—A fire destroyed the St. Cecile wing of Ville Marie Convent early today, and caused injuries to three nuns of the congregation of Notre Dame, but students and others of the institution staff escaped the building safely.

Mother Ste. Alphonse, formerly of Kankakee, Ill., awakened by a smell of smoke, turned in the alarm, and suffered severe burns about the face and wrist before leaving the institution. She was removed to a hospital in critical condition.

The convent houses hundreds of girls, many from Montreal. Anxious parents took their daughters home for the night.

ADmits SLAYING

Minneapolis, Feb. 13.—(P)—Herbert A. Paradeau, captain of detectives, announced late today that Douglas R. May, 20, had confessed inflicting the knife wound which earlier in the day resulted in the death of his 16-year-old wife, Mildred.

May was captured at the home of relatives. The stabbing occurred at the home of his young wife's mother, where she had gone after a disagreement with her husband. They had been married two months.

Paradeau did not indicate what further action police planned.

WILL LIGHT TOMB

New York, Feb. 13.—(P)—The Tomb of Mohammed is going to have electric lights, says "Electrical World."

The magazine asserts the Nizam of Hyderabad has appropriated 50,000 rupees from his silver jubilee fund for lighting the Tomb of the Prophet at Medina.

The Mosque, near the hut where Mohammed died, was first built shortly after his death in 632. It was enlarged in 711 to include his burial place and since has been restored twice after fires.

Woodrow Wilson used 6,221 words in 75 public addresses and more than 60,000 words in his books.

Alpha Iota Girls Dedicate Quarters Wednesday Evening

Business Men Tell Sorority Members Qualifications of Secretaries

The active and alumnae chapters of Alpha Iota sorority dedicated the new sorority club room and meeting place Wednesday evening in the Ayers block on West State street. There were some fifty members of the organization in attendance.

Miss Ethel Stewart had charge of the opening exercises. Two addresses were given during the evening. R. E. Welch, Chamber of Commerce secretary, explained the advantages of such an organization to the membership. Earl M. Spink discussed the qualifications of an office secretary.

Messrs. Spink and Welch presented a survey they had made of some twenty local employers to determine what is most desirable in a secretary. They summarized their findings in five main points, which were presented to the members of the sorority. They are:

1. Personal appearance; 2, loyalty to employer; 3, personality; 4, ability to keep the business of the firm to yourself; 5, ability to adapt yourself to the type of business in which you are engaged.

D. L. Hardin gave a brief talk in which he reviewed the history and growth of the sorority, which originated in Brown's Business College. The original chapter was organized with seven members. There are now two local chapters and fifty members of the sorority here.

A business session was held, followed by a social hour. It was decided to hold a similar joint meeting of the chapters on April 8 to be known as employers' and guest night. Preparations for the state conclave to be held here in May, were also discussed.

The new quarters have been attractively furnished and are to serve as a meeting place for both chapters and as a rendezvous during the conclave, as well as for social gatherings of the sorority.

WON'T WORK SIX DAYS

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 13.—(P)—Representatives of 14 Progressive miners in Illinois voted tonight to adhere strictly to their contract and not work six days a week to alleviate the coal shortage.

The action was taken despite a letter sent to all locals by State President William Keck and S. L. Jones, secretary-treasurer, urging miners to work the extra day "to relieve the coal famine and misery and suffering that goes with it."

CLIPPER TAKES OFF

Alameda, Calif., Feb. 13.—(P)—The China Clipper seaplane took off for Honolulu late today in resumption of air mail and express service on the 8,000-mile route to Manila.

The four-motored flying boat lifted from San Francisco Bay at 7:25 p.m. eastern standard time.

Captain Edwin Musick was at the controls. Trans-Pacific service was interrupted during the holiday season while the China and Philippine Clippers underwent reconditioning.

Montana Cities Hit By Earthquakes

Helena, Mont., Feb. 13.—(P)—Earthquakes struck terror in several Montana cities tonight as an added hardship to the state's longest cold wave and heaviest snowfall in years.

A series of short, sharp quakes shocked Helena late today.

Butte, Missoula and Livingston felt tremors. It is nearly 250 miles from Livingston to Missoula.

No damage was reported.

Pedestrians jumped from the sidewalks in Helena late today in resumption of air mail and express service on the 8,000-mile route to Manila.

The quakes occurred between 5:30 and 6:00 p.m. (mountain standard time).

LIFE AS BANK CLERK'S WIFE IS "TOO DULL"

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 13.—(P)—Pretty Anne Gould Meador, granddaughter of Jay Gould, the railroad builder, found life here as a bank clerk's wife too dull after the gay social swirl of New York. Frank Meadow said today in obtaining a divorce.

Meader, an investment clerk in the Gross National Bank, brought charges of desertion and harsh treatment against the young heiress with whom he eloped to Harrison, N. Y., on Christmas night, 1934, after a whirlwind courtship.

He alleged his young bride left their modest San Antonio home within a few months when called east by the death of her father—and did not return.

"She's a fine girl and we're still friends," he commented. "She was used to a great deal more than a bank clerk could afford in the way of social rounds. I don't much blame her for not coming back."

CANT USE BOBSLED

Oakwood, Wis., Feb. 13.—(P)—A farmer living near this village bought a bobsled 12 years ago. He never had a chance to use it because little snow fell. Last fall he put it in the hayloft. Now he can't get the sled out because the barn is snow-bound.

BEGINS TO LOSE FAITH

Dunn, N. C.—(P)—C. U. Skinner has just about lost his faith in human nature. After he gave an itinerant a quarter to buy lard he found three chickens gone and traced them to a frying pan containing lard purchased with that quarter. The next day he lent a sack to a stranger "to carry some corn" and caught the beggar filling the sack from his own crib.

Nicked Knives Are Wasteful

A nicked or bent-edged paring knife is not only worthless but an actual waste in the kitchen. Replace it with a good steel that will stand sharpening and then take care of it. A paring knife is a delicate tool and should NEVER be used for scraping pots and pans nor for prying off refractory lids.

If a good price is paid for a stainless steel paring knife with a sharp, delicate edge designed especially for paring, the money is poorly invested unless intelligent care is given to the knife. Don't cut down on a hard surface with a knife. For example, when mincing parsley, put the parsley on a small board rather than on an old oiler or saucer.

A long thin, case-knife with a round end is valuable for cutting butter, spreading sandwiches or toast, putting on some kinds of cake frostings and cleaning vegetables. Very often the stiffness of a case-knife makes it possible to loosen some tiny corner which has stuck in the cooking. After gently makes it easy to slip it under a cake in the pan and to take it out without breaking. It also is convenient to run around and around the contents of a mold.

Spatulas Aid in Cookie Baking

When baking cookies, the spatula is handy to take them from the molding board and again from the baking sheet. Another use is spreading light, fluffy cake frosting.

The rubber spatula will save many times its cost because it helps you use up every bit of batter, frosting, pudding, omelet or anything that must be transferred from one container to another.

A sharp, thin-bladed knife for cutting bread and cakes should be kept for those purposes only. This knife should never be kept with other knives and forks but placed where it will not be nicked or rubbed to dull its edge.

Wooden spoons for stirring are much more satisfactory than metal ones for this purpose. Of course a big metal spoon is necessary for basting, but whenever a mixture must be stirred to make smooth by all means use a wooden spoon.

With reasonable care good knives and other small utensils will last for years and add much to the pleasure of cooking.

IN JAIL "BULL-PEN"

All Cells are Empty at County Jail Here
Thursday

"Ho, hum!", said John Bland, turnkey at the county jail, when the noon hour rolled around yesterday. Here it was mess time, and no one to feed.

For the second time since Sheriff Kenneth Woods assumed office the jail was entirely devoid of prisoners. The cell doors hung idly, bolts thrown back, and there was no whistling, singing or other sounds from the "bull-pen."

The jail roster was scratched off yesterday morning when two prisoners left, one to the state penitentiary and the other to freedom, having served his 30 days sentence.

Sheriff Woods took Louis P. Hauck to the Menard prison to serve a term for embezzlement of city funds. Hauck was recently denied a rehearing by the state supreme court.

Small Crowd Heard
Lincoln When He Gave Address Here

Frank J. Heinl in Kiwanis Club Talk Refers to Events of History

Lincoln and Morgan county was the interesting subject of the address given by Frank J. Heinl at the Thursday meeting of the local Kiwanis club, at the Peacock Inn. Mr. Heinl has made an exhaustive study of Morgan county history and his story of Morgan county events in which Abraham Lincoln participated proved of unusual interest to the Kiwanians.

Mr. Heinl said Lincoln first came in touch with Morgan county residents when he piloted a boat down the Illinois river in 1831. At that time he met many men of the Blackhawk war, a war in which Lincoln participated.

Referring to Ann Rutledge Mr. Heinl said Lincoln authorities consider this episode as mythical. Ann Rutledge's brother was a student in the Academy here Mr. Heinl said.

In 1838 Lincoln and Logan were in a court suit here and the man who later became president appeared here on several occasions after that time to act as attorney in suits in court, and also was interested in cases having their origin here which went to higher court.

Lincoln's successful career was due in part to his law partner, Mr. Herndon, declared the speaker. Herndon served with Lincoln in a law office in Springfield and their teamwork throughout their association as partners aided Lincoln materially. Lincoln hated slavery but looked upon it from a purely political standpoint, while Herndon was an abolitionist.

Lincoln was elected to membership in the Phi Alpha society of Illinois College and in 1850 lectured here under the auspices of this society on discoveries and inventions. His lecture was attended by a very small audience and there was no one in Jacksonville who offered to entertain him at dinner, altho this was but 16 months before he became president of the United States.

PREPARE DANGERS OF CONSTIPATION

"Bulk" in ALL-BRAN Is Gentle in Action

Common constipation is largely due to insufficient "bulk" in meals. You fail to get your internal exercise. Millions of people have found that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies soft "bulk" with satisfactory results.

Tests in nutrition laboratories demonstrate that the "bulk" in ALL-BRAN can be used with the utmost confidence. Naturally, those few individuals with diseased or highly sensitive intestines should take "bulk" in any form—either in leafy vegetables or in bran.

Unlike cathartics, ALL-BRAN is natural in its action—nor does this food lose its effectiveness with continued use. Within the body, it absorbs moisture and cleanses the intestines, promoting normal and healthy elimination.

Two tablespoonsfuls of this delicious cereal, served with milk or cream, are usually sufficient. Enjoy it also in cooked dishes.

Help your family keep well. Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk".

CHAPTER I

JANE WESTON heard the cold wind and sleet beating against the panes as she dialed the Central Employment Bureau again. She said in a tired monotone, "Miss Weston calling," and glanced at the office clock.

It was 11:30. Every day for 30 days, while she was at this temporary job in the Oceanic Magazine office, Jane had called the same number—Regent 3000—Regent 3000. The sing-song refrain buzzed in her mind.

And each time, as now, she had received the same reply, "Sorry. No call for you yet, Miss Weston."

Jane sighed and put down the telephone. She began to type again. It was a relief from thinking about herself.

Or was it? It was maddening, counting off the hours from eight to six. A good, steady job that absorbed her was what Jane wanted. For more than a year she had taken anything—typing, holiday clerking, switchboard work, anything she could get. She couldn't admit defeat; she couldn't go back to that little midwestern town until she had found what she had been looking for when she set out alone for the city.

Back in Indiana Jane had been a girl of high keen spirit. She was the middle child in a family of five and had neither the intense self-reliance of the first-born or the home-loving content of the last born. She wanted to see things and do things that were beyond the sea of her companions in the town. And Jane was practical. When she wanted a thing, she went after it.

In the midst of the final letter in her wire basket, she looked up and saw Dickie Landon grinning at her. Dickie was no more than a glorified office boy at his first job. He had tried to date her every day for a month.

"Have you ever been to Coney Island in the winter?" Dick asked. "That's the best time. No crowds, no hot dogs, just the long sweep of the ocean and—"

"And a breeze so cold it'll freeze the marrow in your bones," she replied. "No, thank you. I'll take a cruise to the South Seas on a luxury liner."

She smiled knowingly, for she had just typed a letter to a very wealthy woman who had written the travel editor of the magazine, asking about cruises to the South Seas.

"Aw, come on," Dick begged. "Just this time. You're no killer for looks, Jane, but you knock the shine of the others in this building. I ought to know. I've tried to date them all."

Jane dashed a little. He was smiling at Dick's naivete. He was as open and frank in his observations as a child.

NEVERTHELESS she paused in her work long enough to glance at her image in the wall mirror. She had dark brown eyes and a pert, cushioned mouth. Her reddish hair was set in smooth waves away from a high, white forehead. She had never thought of herself as being especially pretty, but there were plenty of young men who turned around to look after her when she passed on the street.

At this moment there came the faint sound of a ship's horn from the river. Jane glanced quickly toward the window which overlooked the shipping at the piers. Far down she could see the tug boats nosing a giant liner, like a sleek greyhound, out into the water.

Steamers of white paper hung from the stern of the ship, and faintly Jane could hear the noise of the sailing. She could see the black shrouns on the pier-head, waving handkerchiefs to the people on board the departing cruise ship.

"Down to the sea in ships," he said. "As I told you when you came, the job was temporary. Today I'm forced to tell you the magazine is suspending publication. After today your services will no longer be required. Nor will mine, I added gloomily, "as soon as I untangle the business end of it."

Jane didn't hear him. She picked up a newspaper and turned to the steamship columns. "The S. S. Orinoco sails today at noon with 440 on board. Among the passengers are Prince Raoul d'Espinau; Jack Fields, international tennis star; the Earl of Abingdon, Lola Martinez, the dancer; and Alberto Grandi, the tenor."

She smiled. Jane had just typed a letter to a very wealthy woman who had written the travel editor of the magazine, asking about cruises to the South Seas.

Jane dreamed of far-off places . . . romantic nights under a southern moon . . . starlight, the scent of jasmine . . . and a handsome baritone murmuring nonsense—

THE buzzer on Jane's desk brought her back from her reverie. Dickie Landon said, "Hey, wake up! Jerry, the boss, is calling."

But Jane had heard. She had already picked up her dictation pad and was on the way, smiling and alert.

She found Jerry Seal hunched up at his desk. He was tousling his brown hair and when he looked up, his eyes seemed tired.

"I'm sorry to spring this on you," he said. "As I told you when you came, the job was temporary. Today I'm forced to tell you the magazine is suspending publication.

After today your services will no longer be required. Nor will mine, I added gloomily, "as soon as I untangle the business end of it."

Jane thought about Jerry Seal's wife and two youngsters and for a moment didn't think about losing her own job. Tears came to her eyes. They were the tears she had been holding back all day. She gripped her chair hard, but she couldn't keep Jerry from seeing her wet eyes.

He smiled in his friendly, robust way. "I know it's tough. Look here—take some time off this afternoon and scout around the agencies for a new job. I'm going to lunch now with the publisher."

Jane stood up and thanked him. Then she went back to the outer office, put on her hat and coat and left the building.

A COLD wind was blowing in from the river and instinctively Jane drew her coat closer about her. She turned up her collar and began to walk. "I've got to save carfare," she confided to herself. "Besides, most of the employment agencies are close together in the downtown business district."

But she soon found the walking difficult in the slush. The icy wind cut her face and her galoshes were sodden and heavy. From a corner drug store, she called her roommate at the walk-up "roommate at the walk-up" room with cooking facilities they shared.

"I'm down town making the rounds of the agencies," Jane said. "I'm through at the office; there isn't any more job. Won't you come down and share my misery this afternoon?"

Alice said, "Have you had your lunch?"

"No."

"Well, you little idiot, go to Kramer's on Canal street and order some hot food. And wait for me there."

Jane left the booth and entered the little white-table-top restaurant with its pleasant smells of vegetable soups and pastries. She sat down at a table before the window and ordered a bowl of clam chowder.

She and Alice had often made the rounds together. Alice wanted a steady job, too, but had found nothing except spare typing jobs to do. There was something disheartening about entering a crowded employment bureau alone, but, together Jane and Alice sailed into the agencies, one after the other, with chins up and spirits soaring. Employment managers liked to see them come in. The harassed managers always said, "Nothing for you girls today. But I'm looking out for you. Come again tomorrow."

Someone had left a newspaper at the table and Jane picked it up to look at the "help wanted" section. But, with a sigh, she put it down. It was the same old story, nothing in her line.

But a headline caught her eye. "Sardine Prince Visits America." Below was a picture of a blond, smiling, personable Scandinavian youth, aged 21, who was making his first visit to the United States. He was the son of a wealthy packer—curiously enough—sardines. He was in this country to make a study of his father's business interests. He was too handsome, Jane thought idly, scanning his features.

The young man was quoted as saying, "I'm crazy about American girls. I might marry one before I go home. Who knows?" And for moments Jane stared at nothing. She transferred her thoughts to words as her roommate, Alice, sat down at the table, ordering a cup of coffee.

"Where do girls meet men like that?" Jane asked, pointing out the smiling male personage. "Certainly not in an office! There's Jerry, who's worried sick about his own wife and two kids, and Dickie, the boy boy, and—"

"Dreaming again!" Alice commented dryly. "Why must you pick out a sardine prince to yearn after? What you want is a job!"

When Jane didn't answer, Alice went on pithily, "You meet men like that on shipboard—taking a cruise to here, there and yonder. They and the fishes don't inhabit dry land. That's how close we'll never get to one."

more bad news for you."

Jane's heart leaped to the gorge. She listened, wide-eyed. Jerry went on, "I feel like a perfect heel, Miss Weston. In one day I have to let you go—don't think I don't know how hard things are—I haven't a job now either. But, look here, this is just this—

Again Jane's sympathy went out to him. He was such a harried individual, as he sat there, all hunched up over the desk, his face wan from worry.

"There's no money to go on with," Jerry went on. "Oh, you'll get it in time, in the course of—Holland. But there isn't a penny for anybody now. I can't get mine either. The publisher is tied up."

Jane said, "But I haven't a penny to go on with! And do job. What'll I do?"

This news was the final blow. The business manager winced. "How would you like to take a cruise?" he asked. "One of those triangular affairs. First to the Bahamas, then to Bermuda and home. It'd give you a chance to take stock."

Was the man mad with his worries? What was he talking about—a cruise?

"I know it's not a job," Jerry went on, "but you might enjoy it. A breathing spell. You need a rest. This cruise, starting tomorrow, isn't half bad. How would you like to forget all your troubles—and go?"

Jane stared at him without comprehension. "I'm afraid I don't—" "Here's the way it is. The advertisers to our magazine—steamship companies—have been paying us off in script. We have a stack of cruise passages in the safe. Most of them we sell for the face value. A $600 cruise nets us only $300. Some of them we can't sell at all. If you say you want to go on this cruise tomorrow, I'll take the rap and make you the present of a cruise. I'll charge it against the salary we owe you and all will be square."

Jane's eyes widened with surprise and delight. "You mean I can sail on that cruise ship tomorrow?"

Glancing away, she made mental notes of his blond hair and blue eyes and a face that was tanned the color of russet brown. Evidently he didn't belong to the working-class of the city. His bare head and tanned face were proof of that.

"There you go," Alice said, "with your talk about cruise ships again. Snap out of it!"

They moved away from the window when a biting wind caught them in their faces again. "I've had enough discouragement for today," Jane said. "Besides, I have to go back to the office and tell my kind-hearted boss, Jerry, that I didn't find a job."

They parted and Jane made her way back to the office alone. She was physically tired from the trudging in the snow. She sat down at her desk for a moment before she went in to see Jerry.

As she sat there trying to compose herself for a final stab at typing, that feeling of hysteria and dread came over her again. She picked up the telephone and dialed the telephone employment bureau once more. Regent 3000. She said, "Miss Weston calling." And waited.

"Sorry, nothing today, Miss Weston."

Jane put the receiver back on the hook and steered herself. At least she had three weeks' pay coming to her. She could live on that thirty-odd dollars until she found another job. She couldn't go home.

She got up, smoothed back her hair, and went in to see the busines manager. He looked up and said, "Oh, hello, Miss Weston. I didn't think I'd need you for die-tation today. But sit down. I've

Uncle Sam Gets Taste of Record Winter, Too

As if to make up for neglecting the nation's capital in the succession of blizzards and sub-zero waves that have swept most of the United States since before the holidays, King Winter gave Washington, D.C., a fifteen-inch snowfall to set a 14-year record. The brightly illuminated dome of the Capitol building rising above snow blanketed shrubbery and lawns makes a scene that symbolizes the severe weather besetting the nation.

Gas Supply Is Being "Spiked"

Belleville, Ill., Feb. 13.—(AP)—Illinois

Power & Light Co. officials today "spiked" the illuminating gas being piped to homes here in an effort to stop further illness and death due to poisonous fumes.

A pungent gas known as calodor was added to the virtually odorless illuminating gas to make any leakage easily detectable.

Two persons have died and nearly three dozen have become ill from gas poisoning recently.

J. L. Cross, Belleville manager of the power company, said apparently frozen ground had prevented the seepage of gas from leaks up through the ground and it had seeped into homes through mains.

City officials and Arthur Bradbury, superintendent of the mine rescue station here, have been co-operating with the power company to find and repair all leaks and allay the city's anxiety.

Marie was brought into juvenile court Tuesday suffering from bruises and exposure. The child had numerous bruises on her body, allegedly inflicted by her step-mother.

Her hands and feet were frozen and the court heard evidence that she had been compelled to do washing on a porch in below-zero weather.

Officials said they were making an effort to return the girl to an institution at Peoria, Ill., from which she recently was brought to Goodland.

Millikin Pulls Away In Second Half To Beat Illinois College

Jacksonville High to Play
Petersburg Here Tonight in Double Header; Others Away

Petersburg high, which gave Jacksonville high one of their toughest games early in the season, will come here tonight to attempt to check the again rising J.H.S. team in a double header. Both Routt and Illinois School for the Deaf will take to the road for the evening, the Rockets invading Ashland where they hope to register their second win of the year over the Panthers, and the Tigers at Murrayville, where they have hopes of marking up another game over the Shadows.

Old "J" Men Will Be Admitted Free at Gate.

Winners of the Jacksonville high school athletic "J" will be admitted free to tonight's double header with Petersburg. The invitation to letter winners bears no strings, and is the second of special nights planned for different groups.

By making themselves known at the ticket office upon entering the gymnasium, the former high school athletes will be given a ticket and invited to sit in a special section of the gymnasium, although this will not be mandatory.

Coach Frank Walker hopes to uncover some letter winners from way back during the evening.

The three local quintets, all of them showing new power, will go into their games this week-end with their recently found strength intact. All three teams will play double headers, with the local tilt beginning at seven o'clock and the feature tilt about 8 p.m.

Old Rivals Tangle In Week-End Games

Pleasant Hill Seeks Second Win Over Winchester Tonight

Coach Frank Walker and his Crimsons will be after their 19th win of the season against four defeats, tonight, and have another engagement booked for Jerseyville Saturday night. The regular starting lineup of Bob Hamm and Elmer Luke, forward, Alfred Hamilton, center, George Moxon and John Bellatti, guards, will be tossed into the game at the start, with Al Kettner almost certain to see action before the firing ceases.

Tonight's headliner appears to be on tap at Winchester, where Pleasant Hill's tall team will seek its second win of the year over the Wildcats. Pleasant Hill handed Winchester a 32 to 27 set-back on the Pleasant Hill court earlier in the season, after the Wildcats had bumped off the northwestern Illinois Valley conference leaders Pittsfield.

Another of those old rival games that promises to fill the gymnasium will be enacted between Carrollton and Greenfield. A Greenfield victory will bring them into a tie with Carrollton for the Southeastern Illinois Valley cellar, whereas a defeat will leave Greenfield on the bottom rung of the ladder.

Pittsfield, Northwestern leader, has invited the Northwester leaders, the Big Tiger court, and therefore they are expected to have their troubles facing them tonight. Since that victory the Tigers have lost Rajski, forward, and Wildrich, guard, weakening their team somewhat for the present.

Championship Chicago Cubs Will be Paid According to What They are Worth in 36

By Paul Mickelson

Chicago, Feb. 13.—(P)—A reputation is next to worthless to the championship Chicago Cubs.

They don't exactly ignore or burn past record books but, under the new basic salary system evolved by owner Phil K. Wrigley, they are about as interested in past performances as they are in last week's sport pages. It's cash and carry with the Cubs. The Athletes get paid by the piece work when they do.

Charles Drake, official voice for owner Wrigley, explained the Cub basic salary system today a she reported that every Cub had signed his 1936 contract with the exception of Augie Galan, the young outfielder who was one of the big reasons for the team's pennant dash last fall. Galan, predicted Drake, will sign as soon as Chuck Klein, rated as the team's biggest disappointment, got one big boost last season.

"We called Chub in the office and he almost fell down when we told him his pay during a stretch of June had warranted him a pay boost," grinned Drake.

"And," he sighed, "how many times we have wished that we had used the system in 1934. We had some of the highest salaried players in the game, but they loafed away their chances. We would have done much better if we could have spurred them on through the pay check."

"The Cub basic salary system works. A player is signed say for $8,000. That figure represents his basic or minimum salary even if he is worth a nickel to the club. Suppose he is going great. All right, his pay is increased during the period of his streak. If he keeps on going, he'll get another boost. Then when he slumps, his pay is cut again, but never below the $8,000. He may even be raised before the season starts if his work in spring training indicates he is going strong. We almost floated two of our players last spring by giving them a raise on their first pay check. I guess they thought we had gone a little daffy all at once but results proved we did the right thing."

Drake revealed that "every player but one received from one to three boosts in pay over their contracted salaries last season. Galan, he said, received three and held them to the finish of the victorious campaign. With a chuckle, Drake also disclosed that Chuck Klein, rated as the team's biggest disappointment, got one big boost last season.

"We called Chub in the office and he almost fell down when we told him his pay during a stretch of June had warranted him a pay boost," grinned Drake.

"And," he sighed, "how many times we have wished that we had used the system in 1934. We had some of the highest salaried players in the game, but they loafed away their chances. We would have done much better if we could have spurred them on through the pay check."

CASH WHEAT STEADY

Hog Prices 10
To 25 Higher

Chicago, Feb. 13.—(P)—Cash wheat was up to 1 cent higher today. Receipts were 12 cars; shipping sales 60,000 bushels.

Corn was 1 to 1 cent higher. Receipts were 155 cars; shipping sales 40,000 bushels; booked to arrive 40,000 bushels.

Cats were steady to 1 cent higher. Receipts were 26 cars; shipping sales 26,000 bushels.

The trade had 18,000 fresh hogs with 5,000 direct, this run was almost as large as combined receipts for the first three days of the week. Spots advanced more than the regular market and the top got up to $11.

Cattle supplies were the most liberal in a week but fed steers and yearlings were steady to strong on a forced market. Shippers paid slightly higher in instances for better grade weighty cattle but the sluggish dressed beef market continued to be a bearish factor in the trade. Best fed steers brought $11.

The vealer market closed 50 cents or more lower after opening about steady.

Fat lambs were steady to strong with spots 10 to 15 cents up. The bulk of fed western lambs were quoted at $10.25 to $10.65, the practical top at the outside.

Franklin callers in Jacksonville yesterday afternoon included Ernest Henry.

New Highs Reached
In Stock Market

By Frank MacMillen
Associated Press Financial Writer

New York, Feb. 13.—(P)—Buying forces were selective but confident in today's stock market and a wide variety of issues pushed forward briskly to new 5-year highs.

The advance was not altogether unanimous, and a lot of profit taking had to be overcome on the upward jaunt, although at the fast finish a generally strong undertone was in evidence.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks held a gain of .5 of a point at 61.9. This was another peak for the composite since Aug. 20, 1931. Transactors totaled 2,929, shares compared with 3,361,700 on Tuesday.

Of highly optimistic implications to brokerage quarters was a late rally in the Rails, several of which finished 1 to around 3 points on top. Followers of the carriers saw signs of more than satisfactory earnings for a number of the roads if business and industry augment their stride in the remainder of the year.

Profits, such as those disclosed for 1935 by Douglas Aircraft, Western Union, and Continental Can, helped to brighten the speculative and investment picture.

Inflationary sentiment did not seem to be exceptionally important, market-wise.

The dollar moved up sharply against leading foreign exchanges. The gold currencies were particularly heavy, the French franc dropping sharply. Weakness of the French unit was attributed, to some extent, to fresh political disturbances in Paris. At the same time banking quarters felt that dealers abroad may have come to the conclusion that the American monetary unit has been oversold in the past week or so.

Sheep, 1,200; market not established; few odd head choice lambs to city butchers, $10.75@$11; mostly asking higher; receipts include 6 decks western lambs and yearlings.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Seymour of Franklin were callers in the city yesterday.

Wheat Mart Close

Is Unsettled

By John P. Boughan

Chicago, Feb. 13.—(P)—Disappointing action of British and Canadian exchanges today damped bullish enthusiasm that had been stirred because of revival of export buying interest in Canadian wheat.

Liverpool and Winnipeg markets both lost part of the sharp gains which yesterday accompanied export purchases of about 3,000,000 bushels from Canada, the largest total witnessed in weeks. Winnipeg indicated export business today was relatively slow.

An outstanding feature that led to late irregularity of values was spreading operations in which Chicago May delivery of wheat was bought, and the new crop futures, July and September were sold.

After 14 cents a bushel maximum upturn, wheat closed unsettled 1 cent lower to 1 higher than Tuesday's finish. May, 98-984, corn 1-1 up, May 61-614, oats 1-1 advanced, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 2 cents.

Until it became evident that at least a temporary lull had developed in European demand for wheat from Canada, traders gave chief attention to reports of a freeze-up overseas. Cables said prevalent weather abroad, with crops prematurely advanced, was indicative of likelihood of notable winter-killing of wheat this season in Mediterranean countries. It was added, too, that the wheat acreage in most European countries this year is smaller than a year and two years ago.

Rocket Plane Just Fiz-z-z-zles

Belching flame and smoke in a manner befitting a legendary dragon a small rocket plane started up the steel runway at Greenwood Lake, N. Y., in an attempt to transport mail by this new method. The plane reached the top of the runway. Then, instead of soaring off to the New Jersey shore, it plunged ignominiously to the ice. The zero cold was blamed for failure of the test.
